POLITECNICO MILANO 1863

Ahmed Suliman

received the Badge

New paradigms in wastewater management: from a sanitation problem to a circular sustainable solution

from Politecnico di Milano on April 15, 2026

New paradigms in wastewater management: from a sanitation problem to a circular sustainable solution
The new paradigms in the management of the urban water service: originally conceived to protect public health through safe water supply and adequate treatment of wastewater, current trends aim not only at process optimization and energy savings but also at energy and material recovery from wastewater and sludge

The Badge is available at the URL :
https://app.myopenbadge.com/verify/knNQwoV

MY OPEN BADGE